Short description

BioAnalyst, Inc. staff provide technical support for modelling analyses in PATH. We assemble data and estimates for use in construction, calibration and validation of models used in PATH. We work with modelers and review their analyses and output.

Target species

Salmon and steelhead populations in the Columbia Basin.

Section 2. Sorting and evaluation

Subbasin

Entire mainstem Columbia and Snake rivers.

---

Section 4. Objectives, tasks and schedules

Past accomplishments

Year	Accomplishment	Met biological objectives?

Objectives and tasks

Obj 1,2,3	Objective	Task a,b,c	Task
1	Provide PATH modeling groups with sound information with which to construct, calibrate and validate the models.	a	Identify, assemble and characterize data and estimates that may be used in run reconstructions, passage model construction and operation.
2	Determine level of support for key assumptions and hypotheses	a	Critically review and synthesize biological information pertaining to certain key assumptions and hypotheses incorporated in the analyses. In some cases BPA may request alternative analyses to complement the standard model analyses employed in PATH.

3	Reconfigure models to reflect most up to date, sound information	a	Provide modelers with broad-based syntheses of topics important in the construct, calibration and validation of their tools. Emphasis is on fish behavior and survival during downstream and upstream migration.
4	Develop tractable and instructive adaptive management experiments to resolve critical assumptions and hypotheses.	a	Participate in the design of research and monitoring strategies with other PATH members.

Objective schedules and costs

Obj #	Start date mm/yyyy	End date mm/yyyy	Measureable biological objective(s)	Milestone	FY2000 Cost %
1	11/1999	10/2000	Improve predictive capabilities of models	Incorporate information into the PATH analytical reports for that year.	25.00%
2	11/1999	10/2000	Properly characterize the uncertainty associated with model predictions, retro- and prospectively.	Ditto	25.00%
3	11/1999	10/2000	Improve predictive capabilities of models	Ditto	25.00%
4	11/1999	10/2000	Sound experiments may assist in resolving uncertainties @ the effectiveness of management alternatives.	Ditto	25.00%
				Total	100.00%

Schedule constraints

Litigation. Unexpected problems with run reconstruction or model development for particular populations.

Completion date

Unclear. Some agencies (NMFS NPPC COE) have indicated a need for ongoing analytical work beyond FY2000.

Section 5. Budget

PART II - NARRATIVE

Section 7. Abstract

Refer to information provided in the umbrella proposal ( project 9600600) for this material.

Section 8. Project description

a. Technical and/or scientific background

Refer to the umbrella proposal (project 9600600) for this information.

b. Rationale and significance to Regional Programs

See umbrella proposal.

c. Relationships to other projects

See umbrella proposal

d. Project history (for ongoing projects)

See umbrella proposal.

e. Proposal objectives

See umbrella proposal for overall PATH objectives.

f. Methods

See umbrella proposal.

g. Facilities and equipment

See umbrella proposal.

h. Budget

The budgetary levels predicted for FY2000 and the out-years are consistent with the level of effort invested by BioAnalysts, Inc. staff each year since 1996. If additional involvement is requested by BPA or required by the broader PATH forum, these projections may be revised upward. Similarly if billing rates and or OH rates increase in FY1999 those costs will be reflected in the budget submission accompanying that years work statement.

Section 9. Key personnel

Dr. Giorgi is the primary BioAnalysts, Inc. staff member involved in PATH. Dr. Giorgi will participate in the tasks specified herein, at an estimated 520 h annually. Mr. John Stevenson and Gary Johnson will also be available to provide technical support on selected topics (up to 320 h). Drs. Don Chapman and Tracy Hillman could also be available on a limited basis (40 h each) if called upon to review and comment on certain work products produced in PATH

Section 10. Information/technology transfer

See umbrella proposal for a discussion of this topic.

Congratulations!
